

3

“Master, to whom shall we go? 2012
You have the words of eternal life.”
(Jn 6:68)

Living one sentence of Jesus, we live the whole Gospel, because Jesus gives us his whole self in each Word. He himself comes to live in us.

We are asked to live these words even when they sound hard to do, like:

love your neighbor, forgive others,

put yourself at the service of others, pray for your enemies...

This is what the Young for Unity in Sofia, Bulgaria, wrote:

Often we do things to help people in need and it makes us feel very good. Of course we don't do it for that reason, but rather to make others happy. We want to be of service to others, and not just be selfish and think only of ourselves.

Doors open...
...to Joy!

Last fall we heard about a very poor young woman who was expecting her seventh baby. We decided to visit her to see what she needed.

She really needed a lot! There were two broken windows in her house, the front door wouldn't close, and it was almost winter!

The family didn't even have a heater, or a stove to cook on. One of the youth remembered that there was an old stove at his house that no one used, and since his parents agreed, we took it to this family.

We organized a bake sale, making the cakes and cookies ourselves, and our mothers helped, too. With the money we raised, we were able to get the two windows and the front door fixed, and also to buy a small wood-burning heater.

After doing all this, we really felt happy. This convinced us once more that what the Gospel says is really true. We had given but we received a lot more – great joy in our hearts!

From a commentary by Chiara Lubich adapted by the Gen 3 Centre

3

“Master, to whom shall we go? 2012
You have the words of eternal life.”
(1st 6:68)

Mark down how you live the various parts of your day...

AT SCHOOL...

HOMEWORK..

AT HOME...

IN SPORTS AND WITH FRIENDS...

WHAT DO I DO WITH MY FREE TIME?

My Resolutions: